

JUNIOR FELLOWS

The Rowland Institute at Harvard is seeking applications for Junior Fellowships. We seek the best young experimentalists in all areas of natural science and engineering. The Fellowship provides an opportunity to work in the rich intellectual environment at Harvard and the surrounding area, while establishing an independent research program.

The term of the Fellowship is for up to five years, with a flexible start date. The stipend will be upwards from $71,000 per year, depending on the candidate's experience. Fellows must have completed their doctoral degrees prior to starting their term.

www.rowland.harvard.edu

Instructions for applying to the program are to be found at the Rowland website:

www.rowland.harvard.edu/apply.

The application deadline is Aug.19, 2016.

Questions about the program should be directed to rjf@rowland.harvard.edu or mail address:

Dr. Michael M. Burns
Rowland Junior Fellows Program
Rowland Institute at Harvard
100 Edwin H. Land Boulevard
Cambridge, MA 02142 USA.

Harvard University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer

RJF Alessandra Ferzoco's Cold Ion Spectroscopy Lab

Upper image: A beam of ions exiting a quadrupole mass filter is directed either to a detector or to a cryogenic ion trap in a custom mass spectrometer.

Lower image: An electron multiplier assembly used to detect charged particles.