The Rowland Institute at Harvard is seeking applications for Rowland Fellowships that commence in the 2020 calendar year. We seek the best young experimentalists in all fields of science and engineering. The Rowland Fellowship provides an opportunity to establish an independent program within the rich intellectual environment at Harvard and the surroundings.

The term of the Fellowship is for up to five years, with a start date ideally between July and September. The stipend will be upwards from $73,000 per year, depending on the candidate’s experience. Fellows must have completed their doctoral degree prior to starting their term.

Instructions for applying to the program can be found on the Rowland website: www.rowland.harvard.edu/apply

The application deadline is Aug. 16, 2019.

Questions about the program should be directed to Dr. Michael M. Burns at: rf@rowland.harvard.edu

An experiment on the expansion and contraction dynamics of ternary droplets. RF Nate Cira Lab.

Harvard University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, gender identity, sexual orientation, pregnancy and pregnancy-related conditions or any other characteristic protected by law.